our city of the Richmond College Museum, and are glad to learn that it grows steadily and noiselessly. Professor C. H. Winston, so well known as a scientist, is making a collection of minerals which will soon present a bird's-eye view of the mineralogy of the State. The cabinet, being readily accessible, will give to strangers and all interested a glimpse into our immense mineral resources.

Professor Curry interests himself rather in the less scientific department, illustrating, however, Archaeology, History, &c. Lately, through him, there have been pre-sented to the museum a Confederate flag and teresting. Professor Curry at odd intervals has given some attention to the collection of characteristic autograph letters from men and women of distinction in this country and in Europe. What he has is surpassed by few private collections, and will soon be deposited at the college. Of Europeans he has autograph letters of Lucien Bonaparte, the kings of Bavaria, Belgium, and Greece, the great Biblical scholar Tischendorf, of D'Aubignè, Prepensè, Sir James Mackintosh, Gladstone, Moltkè, Ruskin, Garibaldi, Spurgeon, Müller, &c., &c. Of American celebrities, the name is legion. We recall nearly a complete list of the presidents, and the names of Henry, Franklin, De Witt Clinton, Marshall, Chase, Story, Webster, Clay, Calhoun, Sumner, Yancey, and a long list of dead and living statesmen, authors, and preachers.

THE FUNERAL CEREMONIES AT THE

MONUMENTAL CHURCH, &c., &c.

The Monumental church presented another sad scene on Saturday afternoon, upon the occasion of the funeral of Judge Guigon. To say that the church was crowded would bardly give an idea of the immense congregation present. Hundreds of people were turned away unable to be seated, many remained standing near the door, while Broad street between Twelfth 9 A. M., 56; noon, 62; 3 P. M., 65; 6 P. and Fourteenth, was thronged with people-white and black-who were apparently anxious to get a glimpse of the casket that contained the mortal remains of the highlyhonored, just, and much-loved judge. AN INTERESTING COLLECTION.-We have Indeed, crowds lined the streets along heretofore called attention to the value to which the procession passed from the late residence of the deceased to the church, and > even from the church to Hollywood. Half an hour before the services at the church the Richmond Light-Infantry Blues, under command of Captain John S. Wise, marched to the vicinity of the Monumental. where they awaited the arrival of the procession from the house.

THE SERVICES.

The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Gibson and Rev. Charles Minnigerode, D. D., of St. Paul's church. It will be remembered that upon the occasion of the burial of Mrs. Guigon the services were conducted by Mr. Gibson, the pastor of the Monumental (Dr. Woodbridge) being at that time absent from the city.

As the remains, which were decorated with beautiful floral offerings, were brought into the church the choir sang a beautiful solo and chorus, the words being from the Burial Service-mond has heard with profound sorrow of the death of the Hon. A. B. Guigon, late Judge of the Hustings Court of this city;

Resolved, That in the death of Judge Guigon we recognize that this city has lost one of its most valuable citizens, an eminent, fearless, able, and upright judge, and one whose loss will be deeply felt by this community.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect we will attend his funeral in a body and cause cords of the Council.

Royster was requested to preside. On assuming the chair Mr. Royster stated the Honor Mayor Carrington expressing deep regret at being detained from the meeting, and being debarred by physical indisposition the sad pleasure of uniting with his brother-officers in paying the last tribute of affection and respect to the dead. The following resolutions were then offered, and on motion of Mr. A. R. Woodson were unanimously adopted:

Judge A. B. Guigon being dead, we are ssembled for his funeral. Feeling his death not only as it affects the interests of this community, but as a personal bereavement to us individually, who were his earnest friends, admirers, and daily associates, we here inscribe our unanimous sentiment:

Meeting of the Bar and Judiciary. A meeting of the bar and judiciary of Richmond and vicinity was held at the rooms of the Court of Appeals on Saturday to take action in reference to the death of Judge Alexander B. Guigon. The meeting was one of the largest ever held upon any similar occasion in the city, nearly every member of the bar in the city being present. The meeting was called to order by Henry G. Cannou, Esq., on whose motion Judge E. H. Fitzhugh was called to the chair and Captain Robert G. Scott appointed ecretary. On motion of Mr. Cannon the following committee was appointed to report resolu-tions expressive of the sense of the meeting at the great loss sustained:

Judge William W. Crump, John O. Steger, H. G. Cannon, Charles U. Williams, A. M. Keiley, John H. Guy, J. M. M. Davis, James G. Blackwell, Judge John A. Meredith, John B. Young, Judge William I. Clopton, P. R. Grattan, and Judge E. C. Minor.

A TRIBUTE OF RESPECT. The committee, after retirement, presented a preamble and resolutions, which contained a highly eloquent and eulogistic but just tribute to the public and private virtues of the deceased, and spoke of him as a good citizen, a gallant soldier, and upright iudge.

A copy of the resolutions were ordered to be sent to his family and to be spread upon the records of the different courts of the city and the State. It was also resolved that the bench and bar attend the funeral in a body.

JUDGE CRUMP'S REMARKS.

Judge Crump said: As we stand by the unburied remains of our dead friend we can draw a discriminating estimate of his virtues. I saw him well and hearty on the day on which he died, and when next I saw him death had put its seal upon him. I can scarcely realize it. I had known him from his childhood, and never knew a more per-He executed justice and the law. He was sworn to support, and I fear his place can have committed errors, but his errors belong to our nature; but the general course held it in its proper sphere.

In manner he was kind and genial; he was fond of his race; he was warm-hearted and tender, and a friend of mankind. THE COMMONWEALTH ATTORNEY'S ABSENCE EXPLAINED. Captain John S. Wise, after explaining the unavoidable absence of Captain George D. Wise, the Commonwealth's attorney, said: He was not so near to Judge Guigon as to be either blinded by his virtues or The pall-bearers were Messrs. The sense of loss I feel is like that when der, and not some mere ornamental fixture. He has left his judicial ermine unsoiled; he dies after having labored as though it was for his own private business. He proved himself a worthy successor of his lamented predecessor. He has gone, and his name is placed beside the other great and good and true men of Virginia. I believe that his name will be as lasting, if not as great, as that of any judge who has gone before him and made the bench of Virginia famous.

A WARM FRIEND'S TRIBUTE. James Pleasants, Esq., was the next speaker. He said that he and Judge Guigon had known each other from childhood. They never met without mutual pleasure, nor parted without regret. He has escaped stage. He has not lived too long, but dies in the ripeness of his honors and in the zenith of his fame. The King of Terrors cannot rob him of a fame that is imperishable. The lustre his elevation to the bench reflected on him he has reflected back on his native State a thousand-fold. How demean himself in his high station, and wear the unspotted ermine of justice. I desire to pay this simple tribute to the memory of my departed friend, although scarcely able to express myself from excess of grief. Richmond can always point with pride to his career as combining the learning, the purity, and the independence that should always characterize the Virginia ju-

MR. CANNON'S REMARKS.

Henry G. Cannon, Esq., who was the schoolmate and playmate of the deceased the language which my heart prompts in this great hour of our grief. It is not alone in this room that there are mourners, but all over the city. Every good citizen dcplores the death of Judge Guigon as a great public calamity. No man in our State, of judge. He inspired with a wholesome terror evil-doers, and every man, woman, and protection to life and property. His intrepid courage never wavered in bringing to justice the powerful and rich no less than the poorest and most humble. To him more than any other man is credit due for the suppression of vice and lawlessness in the past eight years. These were his public Mr. Cannon closed with an eloquent tribute to the private life of his departed friend.

MR. CABELL'S REMARKS. E. C. Mr. Chairman,-This crowded audience, this large meeting of the bar and bench of this city, testifies more eloquently than mere words can possibly do the high appreciation in this community of the character and services of our deceased brother, who has been suddenly cut down in the midst of his career of usefulness and honor. I feel constrained, as the only representative of the Court of Appeals of this State now present, to offer in the name of that tribunal and for myself, in few brief, plain words, my humble tribute of respect to the memory, the character, and distinguished the pleasure of saying, how-d'ye.

PERSONAL .- Among the visitors to the Tobacco Exchange Saturday were F. J. French, Amelia; J. R. Tucker, Jr., Washington, D. C.; R. L. Ragland, Halifax; and P. W. Ferrell, Danville. Captain George D. Wise has been in Goochland county for several days. Mr. S. T. Beach, principal of Shockoe Hill Academy, who has been confined to Judge, said: I wish I could indulge in his house by sickness for the past four weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to resume the duties of his school to-day.

THE OATES MATINEE AND FAREWELL. There was a full and fashionable attendance at the matinée Saturday. La Perichole was his age, had a greater or a more deserved presented, and Mrs. Oates as the heroine, reputation as a pure, upright, and fearless with the able support of her company, if possible, surpassed her acting of Thursday night. The attendance Saturday night was child felt secure while his arm guided the by no means as large as either the merits of scales of justice. He brought safety and Mrs. Oates or the play demanded. Offenbach's charming opera of the Princess of Trebizonde was produced with superb costumes, elegant properties, and grand orchestral chorus. Mrs. Oates, as Prince Raphael, sang and acted with her usual dash and abandon, the audience was a heartily sympathetic one, and she was rapturously applauded. In the second act in response to an enthusiastic encore she sang "Good-Bye, Sweetheart, Good-Bye," in exquisite style, and received another double encore. It seemed almost impossiole to please the audience. Like Oliver Twist, they still cried for more. Mr. Laurent was not in the cast, but Messrs. Allen, Hall, Seymour, and Bell, Mrs. Meader, Misses Winston and Dolaro, and the chorus, rendered very effective support, Messrs. Seymour and Bell being deserving of special mention. The music was light, airy, and of a kind to touch the soul.

"Twas music sweet; 'tis obsolete And now 'tis past away." But its memory will linger with us and cheer us even as withered roses whisper of departed spring. The curtain has fallen, the opera is over, and while we shall miss the sunny sprite that has charmed and delighted all hearts during the past week, the recollections of that week will furnish food for bright reflection through many a long weary day. THE RICHMOND AND ALLEGHANY RAILROAD.

Passage of the Bill for a Railroad Along the James-River Valley.

The following is the full text of the bill o amend the charter of the Straight-Shoot Railroad Company, to change its name to the Richmond and Alleghany Railroad Company, and to extend its limits. The bill passed the Senate on Saturday, having passed the House Friday. The Senate amended the bill by striking out the section authorizing a subscription on the part of the cities and counties along the line; but the friends of the bill claim that the House will readily concur in the amendment. It should be stated that it was upon Colonel Elliott's motion that the bill was taken up and passed in the Senate. He introduced the bill in the Senate, and has been watching its various stages with interest and anxiety:

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, That sections 8 and 4 of an act entitled an act to amend the charter of the Richmond and Lynchburg Railroad Company, approved July 11, 1870, and amended and reenacted by an act approved March 27, 1873, be further amended and reenacted so as to read as follows: §8. The title of the Richmond and Lynch burg Railroad Company is hereby changed to the Richmond and Alleghany Railroad Company, and the construction of that part of the road that lies between Richmond and Lynchburg shall be commenced within two years and completed within four years of the passage of this act; and of that part between Lynchburg and Buchanan and the branch to Lexington shall be commenced within ninety days and completed within twelve months of the date of any contract that may be made with the James-River and Kanawha Company for the use of the intermediate works.

§ 4. It shall be lawful for the said company to borrow money at a rate of interest not exceeding eight per centum, and to secure payment of the same by a first mortgage not exceeding $15,000 per mile, and a second mortgage not exceeding $10,000 per mile of its main and branch lines.

2. All the rights, privileges, and franchises heretofore conferred upon the Rich mond and Lynchburg Railroad Company and upon the Straight-Shoot Railroad Company are conferred upon and vested in the Richmond and Alleghany Railroad Company, and the Richmond and Alleghan Railroad Company may lease or purchase any connecting railroad, or any of the franchises, privileges, and property of any other work of internal improvement within the limits of this charter: Provided, The rights of creditors shall not be impaired thereby.

3. The main line of the said railroad company shall be from Richmond via Lynchburg to any point or points on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad west of Staunton. and it may extend its main or branch lines to any point or points on the West Virginia State line via Craig's creek, or Jackson's river, or any other tributary of James river, and the most practicable routes; and it may connect with the Buchanan and Clifton Forge railway at or near Buchanan, and it may build a branch to Lexington and one to Fincastle; but this act shall not be con-Fincastle; but this act shall not be construed as interfering with any of the franchises or privileges of the James River and Kanawha Company or of the Buchanan and Clifton Force Railway Company 4. This act shall be in force from ts pas-

The Working Boys' Night School.

At a meeting of the teachers of the Working Boys' Night School" held at the soup-house on Friday night, February 22, 1878, the following was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That our thanks are hereby tendered to Mr. R. L. De Lea and Messrs Ellyson & Yancey for their kindness in donating books and stationery; also to the City School Board; to Messrs. R. W. Powers & Co. for sponges donated, and to all those who have kindly given us pecuniary aid.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolu-tion be furnished each of the above named firms, and that they be published in the Richmond Dispatch. WILLIAM Y. SHEPPARD, JR.,

MANCHESTER AND VICINITY.

Arrested for Larceny.-Sidney Jackson colored) was arrested Saturday on the harge of stealing two coats from Dennis Gregory at Haxall's mill, in Richmond. As the offence was committed in Richmond Sergeant Dan. Wren took the accused over to answer at the Police Court this morning. The Hustings Court .- There will be an adjourned session of the Hustings Court this morning for civil business only.

A Family Reunion.-The venerable and respected Colonel W. W. Hancock, father of ex-Justice Spencer T. Hancock, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday on February 17th with a dining-day and family reunion at Otterdale, his seat in Chesterfield county. Colonel Hancock is one of the oldest citizens of the county, and represented it in the Legislature in Virginia's glory's day.

Bridge Avenue .- There is the best authority for stating that the work of paving, guttering, and laying the sidewalk on Bridge avenue will be commenced at once and pushed forward to a speedy completion.

The Meade Memorial Church .- This congregation has as yet made no call, but arrangements have been made to supply the pulpit until a regular pastor is secured. The Coming Tableaux .- The ladies of the Presbyterian church, assisted by some of our best amateur talent, are busily engaged making arrangements for a series of tableaux. An entertainment of this kind given by these ladies some years since was one of the most enjoyable and successful in the 32. Southampton, Isle of Wight, and Nan- history of our city.

On the Water-Line.-The mills and factories have enjoyed a very successful season since the freshet. Saturday was payday at several of them, and a considerable amount was disbursed. There is great rejoicing at the near approach of the season for the stoppage of work by lamps.
